

Our Water, Our Economic Future – Regional Cooperation, The Next Stage

As the Triangle struggles to recover from an exceptional drought, join local leaders at the 2008 Community Success Forum to learn what we can do as a community to conserve water.

Get informed about growth's real impact on water usage and how other parts of the country have dealt with extended water shortages by sharing resources and being innovative. Join local elected leaders as they discuss plans to address future water needs.

The Community Success Forum is an annual forum hosted by a collaboration of chambers of commerce in the Triangle region, as well as other strategic partners, to generate discourse and find solutions to the region's growth-related challenges. Register now for this exciting event!
